Louisville, Ky., June 27.—A wild freight, running down grade at thirty-five miles an hour, was responsible for a serious wreck on the Louisville division of the Illinois Central railroad yesterday at 2:40 at Vine Grove, thirty-five miles from Louisville.

Three are dead, two fatally injured, and fourteen others sustained cuts and bruises which will confine them to their homes and hospitals for several days.

The wreck was caused by an extra freight train running into a passenger train which had become disabled at the foot of a steep grade. The passenger coaches were badly wrecked and the collision came without a warning.

According to a statement furnished by an official of the railroad the passenger, No. 122, north-bound, and due at Louisville at 4:55, had just left Vine Grove and in going down the steep grade the air brakes refused to work.

Engineer Frisley brought his train to a standstill to repair them, and while the train was standing an extra freight, No. 14, en route from Central City to Rnd Top, in charge of Engineer Martin Fitzgibbon and Conductor George Cline, rounded the curve and the top of the grade.

At this point Fitzgibbon seemed to have lost control of his engine and the heavy train started wildly down the grade.

The operator endeavored to block the freight, but before he could get the block signal in position the freight had rushed past the station.

Hon. Jerre Porter Preparing For a Big State Rally of the T. P. A. Here

Hon. Jerre Porter, of Clinton, Ky., arrived in Paducah at noon en route to Louisville and is this afternoon in conference with members of the local post T. P. A., and intends to have a big state rally of T. P. A. members here in the near future,
the date being uncertain.

Mr. Porter has interested the national officers of the association to the extent that several have agreed to come here when the rally is held.

Mr. Porter stated that the Paducah post was the oldest in the association—that it started the associa-

Engineer Fitzgibbon did all in his power to stop his engine, and when he saw that a rear end collision was not to be avoided he cried to his fireman to jump and neither was injured.

The freight crashed into the rear car, and the forward passenger coach full of passengers was crushed almost to splinters, the dead and injured being scattered on both sides of the track.

RANCHERS, WOMEN AND CHILDREN MURDERED BY YAQUIS.

Tucson, Arizona, June 27.— At least twelve ranchers and several women and children met death at the hands of the hungered Yaqui Indians, who have been raiding the country along the San Miguel river, near So-nem, Mexico.

After several families had been murdered by the Indians, the ranchers made a determined stand and succeeded in repulsing the Yaquis. It is thought that fully twenty Indians were killed. Five Yaquis captured outside the town of Uris and thought to have taken part in the massacre were hanged.

THE COW ORDINANCE KNOCKED SKY HIGH

Judge Sanders Decided it Unconstitutional and Void.

Gives Several Reasons Why the New Law is Defective, and Urges an Appeal.

Points to Decision.

Ordinance does not contain any provision that it shall take effect in the future, but on its passage.

Ordinance embraces more than one subject, contrary to section 3959, Kentucky Statutes.
Ordinance requires cow owners to appear in court and prove their innocence, instead of requiring city to prove their guilt.

Ordinance violates federal and state law providing that citizens shall not be deprived of property without due process of law.

Ordinance provides for no appeal.

Ordinance confers on the police court civil jurisdiction.
Question should have been submitted to a vote of the people under new law passed in 1903.

Judge D. L. Sanders, in the police court, this morning, knocked the new cow ordinance into a cocked hat. He declared that it was unconstitutional, void and figuratively tore it into shreds in his written opinion.

He dismissed all warrants that have been issued against cow owners since the new law went into effect, ordered all cows in the pound released, and instructed Chief of Police Collins to pay back all the money that had been collected by the city from the owners of cows taken up and released by the city.

Judge Sanders recommended that the city take an appeal to the highest court, and settle the question once for all. He said that it was best because an appeal may save the city considerable in the long run by preventing it from illegally selling cows and being sued for damages for it.

When he finished reading his opinion some tall woman started joyfully out and when she reached the door said in a shrill voice,
"Three cheers for Judge Sanders." This threw the court room into pa-roxysms of laughter, and the judge himself could not refrain from smiling.

Judge Sanders opinion in full is
as follows:

Paducah Police Court.—City of Paducah vs. Ragshide and Others.—
Breach of Ordinance.

In this proceeding, I am necessarily called upon to pass on the validity of an ordinance, recently passed by the general council of the city of Paducah, and approved by the mayor, June 5, 1905, entitled "An ordinance to prevent certain animals of the bovine kind from running at large in the city of Paducah." I have given this ordinance very careful and thoughtful consideration, because I deem it of great importance to the city and likewise to many of our citizens from a personal standpoint, many of whom have heretofore kept without restriction or interference, cows for the purpose of supplying milk to the family, many of them being too poor or hard pressed to purchase it from the regular vendors. The privilege of keeping cows within the city limits, has, so long been by the law, and has
for that reason, become so universal, and such an important source of food supply, as to make the sudden curtailment of the right, without any warning to the owners of cows, a very serious matter, even when there was no valid objection to the law, as it is written. It does not contain any proviso that it shall take effect in the future, thereby giving to the people, who own and keep cows, a reasonable opportunity to protect themselves against the sudden change, but on the contrary, a proviso is inserted that it shall take effect from its passage. For these and other reasons, which will become apparent in this opinion, I have regarded and treated the question as of the utmost importance to the city generally, and to the individuals, whose rights are immediately affected, particularly. A very important objection to the validity of this ordinance might be raised at the very threshold of the discussion, as to its being in conflict with section 3059 of the Kentucky Statutes, which contains among other things, a provision, "that no ordinance shall embrace more than one subject, and that shall be expressed in the title."

It seems to me that the ordinance under consideration, embraces as many subjects as there are sections of the ordinance; that none of these subjects are expressed in the title except as indicated by Section 1.
That section does provide that "No cow or other animal of the bovine kind shall run at large in the city of Paducah; but after reading that section, the other sections of the ordinance introduce new subject matter. Some of these, which could not possibly be anticipated by reference to the subject mentioned in the caption, but realizing the importance of the law, I am not prepared to say that I would hold it to be unconstitutional or invalid, for the reasons; but if anyone will read carefully the ordinance in connection with the provisions of the Statute that no ordinance shall embrace more than one subject, and that shall be expressed in the title," he will have grave doubts, to say the least of it, as to the validity of this ordinance; but because there is considerable popular demand for this kind of legislation, the courts of the state cannot afford to ignore the plain rules of construing Statutes that have been recognized since the establishment of the Commonwealth; so I come at once, as to what I consider, serious and fatal objections to the validity of the ordinance. Section 2 of the Ordinance provides that "If the name of the owner of the animal found running at large be known, the judge of the city court shall issue a summons against him, commanding him to appear in said court, to show cause, if any, he can, why he shall not be fined five dollars for violation of the ordinance, and why such animal shall not be sold to satisfy the costs and charges of taking up, keeping and selling the same." In all my experience, both upon the bench, and at the bar, and it has been considerable, I cannot now recall another ordinance or section of laws, demanding that the citizen shall prove himself innocent, before he has been proven to be guilty; there may be tribunals within the commonwealth, which will uphold such a law, but to my mind, it is fraught with so much evil that I naturally shrink from it;
I would not hesitate to enforce a

GREAT DISORDER STILL PREVAILS

in Warsaw Next.

Bakers Go On a Strike—Stores in Some Places Beggar Dis-cription.

THE POLICE ARE HELPLESS

Warsaw, June 27.—The situation here is becoming more critical. The police are terror-stricken and are making no effort to preserve order.
Everything is left to the Cossacks, and it is said martial law will be declared shortly.

Order Being Restored.

Lodz, June 27.—Order has been temporarily restored after yesterday's outbreaks, and the situation appears improved. Cars are running, and the streets are beginning to resume their normal appearance. It is estimated that twenty thousand Jews have left Lodz since Saturday to escape massacre.

Bakers Join Strikers.

Warsaw, June 27.—Almost seven hundred arrests have been made as a result of rioting. Bakers in the city and suburbs have joined the strike, shutting off the supplies of bread. The mobilizing of troops in Warsaw is expected.

Shot Into Train of Jews.

Lodz, June 27.—At the Widsens railway depot near here today a drunken officer ordered a company of Cossacks to fire on a train of Jews.
The passengers fell to the floor and in the panic fortunately, the aim of the soldiers was not best and only one person, a woman, was wounded.

INSPECTORS HERE.

They Did Not Pass the Charleston,
But, Defect is Slight.

Inspectors McDonald and Green, of Nashville, were in Paducah yesterday and inspected two steamboats, turning one down and passing the other.

The Charleston, which had just come off the Flney docks was inspected and her hull found to be defective or not up to the requirements, and she will have to go on the docks again. The defect is only slight and she will be ready for service in a few days, but it will require a second inspection. The steamer Lotus which has just undergone repairs, was also inspected and found to be up to the requirements. The Lotus was recently sold by order of the court to satisfy claims held against her.

IS DYING

Hope Abandoned for Louis Hodeheimer.

Mr. Louis Hodeheimer, who was burned in a conflagration which destroyed his tailoring shop at Third and Broadway, a week ago, is in a dying condition at his home on South Fifth street near Jackson. He grew worse yesterday when he had a sinking spell but was better in the afternoon. Several doctors were called in consultation and pronounced his case hopeless. This afternoon at press time he is barely alive, and it is said can live but a few hours longer.

LOST HER PURSE.

Miss Golde Left It On the Dresser
and It Disappeared.

Miss Anna Golde, who has been playing at the Wallace park casino theatre for several weeks reported a robbery to the police last night.

She was staying at the Richmond hotel and left her purse, containing about $14, on the dresser. She left the room for a few minutes and on returning discovered her purse gone.
She does not know whom to suspect, but gave the detectives all the information possible and they are working on the case today.

The Date Not Set.

Senator Wheeler Campbell stated this afternoon that he had not learned when the date of the state camp-ment, which is to be held in Paducah would be, but intended writing at once and learning from the governor.

ALLEGED ROBBERY IS THE CHARGE

Three White Men Arrested Here
This Morning.

Louis Leavell, a Harnessmaker, Says
They Went Through His White
He Was Asleep.

ONLY THREE DOLLARS MISSED

Charles Grosshurl, "Sticks", Mc-Cormick and William McCormick, white, were arrested this morning by Officers Cross, Terrell and Alexander on the charge of robbery. Louis L.
Leavell, a harnessmaker employed at the Michael Bros. establishment, and residing at 129 South Third street, is the complainant.

The robbery is alleged to have occurred last night between 10 and 11 o'clock near Washington and Second streets. Leavell was drinking and sat down on a platform in front of a wholesale grocery store. He went to sleep and the three defendants are alleged to have robbed him.

Leavell stated that he was awakened by the three men going through his pockets. They had gone through all except a hip pocket.

Leavell claims that W. R. Wilson, a barber, and John Isenman, who were across the street at the Isenman wagon yard, saw the entire transaction. The alleged robbers are said to have run when Leavell awoke.

Three dollars were secured and Leavell claims he did not know the men last night but fully identified them this morning. He had a warrant issued this morning for robbery and the case will come up for trial tomorrow morning before Judge Sanders.

many friends who will be pleased to learn of their booking a return date.

NEW STEAM PUMP TESTED BY I. C.

Takes Escape Steam Back Into
the Locomotive.

Has Been Tested and Proven Successful and May Be Used On All I. C. Engines.

IT WILL SAVE MUCH MONEY.

A Louisville man has patented a wonderful invention which the Illinois Central has been testing between Louisville and Central City, and is to demonstrate at Chicago in a few days. W. T. Harris, for many years an I. C. engineer, is the inventor. He has three devices, and their object is to utilize the escape steam from locomotives.

The Harris steam pump, as it is called at present, takes the escape steam, which ordinarily goes to waste up the stack, and pumps it back into the boiler, to be used over again with little reduction of its original boiler temperature.

About 25 per cent is allowed to go through the stack for making draught, and this is so utilized as to form a smoke consumer, which Mr. Harris claims to be practically perfect. Perfect combustion is obtained in the furnace. No cinders are thrown and no black smoke is visible.

The use of the 75 per cent. of the steam which is put back in the boiler enables the locomotive to run without water more than twice as long as the ordinary locomotive, while the saving in coal is calculated at 50 to 75 per cent. Both these calculations have been actually verified by Illinois Central locomotive No. 1 during the past year.

"The saving in coal," says Mr. Harris, "will amount to about $300 per month for an ordinary road engine, figuring the value of the coal at what the railroads pay the mines for it, which is almost nothing."

"Another considerable saving will result from the fact that the decrease in coal burned will practically double the life of boilers."

"A considerable saving will be effected as a result of the smoke consumer, which, by preventing the throwing of hot cinders, will do away with damage suits resulting from fires."

"The consumer may be applied to factories or dwellings with perfect results."

Mr. Harris, the inventor, who holds patents on the various parts of the device, drove locomotives on the Chesapeake & Ohio, Indianapolis, Bloomington & Western, Cincinnati Southern and New York Central before he went with the Illinois Central and located in Louisville. He is now looking forward to the manufacture of the pump. It weighs about 1,300 pounds and costs only about $250 to manufacture, so that its commercial features can be easily seen should the test of Chicago put it finally out of the class of experiments into the class of things tried and tested.

MISS FARLEY ELECTED SUPERINTENDENT OF

THE NEW RIVERSIDE
HOSPITAL.

She is a Niece of the Messrs. Farley Here, and lives at Whittemore, Iowa.

The Riverside hospital board met yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and elected Miss Frances Marion Farley, of Chicago, superintendent of the institution. She is now in charge as matron of one of the largest Chicago hospitals, and is quite well known in Paducah, being a niece of Messrs. Ed. and John Farley and having visited here a number of times.

The board ordered walks built about the new hospital to be used until the concrete is laid. The last of the equipment is expected today, but it is probable the hospital cannot be opened by July 1st, as hoped.

It has been decided by the board to have a nurse training school in the hospital, the applicants to be trained under the matron, Mrs. Robertson and Lloyd will constitute an examining board.

No time has been selected for electing matron and the four or five other attaches of the new institution that are to be chosen before it is formally opened.

Miss Farley, the superintendent-elect, is a daughter of Mr. James M. Farley, of Whittemore, Ia., a brother of Capt. Ed. Farley and Alderman John Farley, of Paducah. Her father is a wealthy man, but Miss Farley decided to become a trained nurse, and studied in Chicago until she graduated with honors.

She has been for seven months in charge of one of Chicago's large institutions, and came to Paducah recently, looked over the field, liked the place, and solicited the vote of the members of the board, being elected yesterday almost unanimously.

A joint meeting of the women's committee and the board of directors was held last night at the Y. M. C. A. building, and arrangements were made for keeping up the financial part of the association during the summer months.

The board of directors held their regular monthly meeting and decided to have a steamboat excursion under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., in the near future.

The auditing committee reported the books and records in fine condition.

FOOD IN SERMONS.

Feed the Dominie Right and the Sermon will Brillicent.

A conscientious, hard working and eminently successful clergyman writes: "I am glad to bear testimony to the pleasure and increased measure of efficiency and health that have come to me from adopting Grape Nuts food as one of my articles of diet."

"For several years I was much distressed during the early part of each day by indigestion. My breakfast, usually consisting of oatmeal and eggs, seemed to turn sour and failed to digest. After dinner the headache and other symptoms following the breakfast would wear away, only to return, however, next morning."

"Having heard of Grape Nuts food, I finally concluded to give it a fair trial. I quit the use of oatmeal and eggs and made my breakfasts of Grape Nuts, cream, toast and Postum. The result was surprising. In improved health and total absence of the distress that had, for so long, a time, followed the morning meal. My digestion became once more satisfactory, the headaches ceased, and the old feeling of uneasiness returned. Since that time, four years ago, I have always had Grape Nuts food on my breakfast table."

"I was delighted to find also, that whereas before I began to use Grape Nuts food I was quite nervous and became easily worried in the work of preparing sermons and in study, a marked improvement in this respect resulted from the change in my diet. I am convinced that Grape Nuts food produced this result and helped me to a sturdy condition of mental and physical strength."

"I have known of several persons who were formerly troubled as I was, and who have been helped as I have been, by the use of Grape Nuts food, on my recommendation, among whom may be mentioned the Rev. ———, now a missionary to China."

MANY INDICTMENTS.

Against the Standard Oil Company to Be Defended.

Attorney John K. Hendricks of the firm of Hendricks, Miller and Marble, left this morning for Marion, Ky., to attend circuit court and defend the Standard Oil Co. in 35 indictments for peddling oil without a license.

Col. Hendricks stated that there were more than 1,000 indictments in the state against the company for peddling oil without a license, and that his firm alone had one hundred cases to defend in this end of the state.

At Smithland there are 34, at Marion 35, at Benton 14 and Paducah 15 indictments. Each is for one wagon but in many instances the same wagon sold in two counties and the company was indicted for the same wagon in the two counties. In such cases the court of appeals has decided that one indictment shall stand for both counties. In Marshall and McCracken one wagon handled the trade and an indictment returned here and at Benton too.

SEWER INSPECTOR

Will Be Elected by General Council Tomorrow Night.

Mayor Yelver will call a meeting of the general council for tonight to elect a sewer inspector to succeed the late Mr. L. P. Hasor, and also to elect a member of the board of health.

A letter has been received by the mayor from City Engineer L. A. Washington suggesting that a practical sewerage man be elected to the position.

The duties of sewerage inspector are not only to see that all house connections with the sewerage are properly made, but also that the system itself is in good condition. It takes more than a practical plumber to do the work as it should be done, and Engineer Washington's suggestions are made because the engineer is partly responsible for the success of the sewerage, and realizes that if the system is neglected it will eventually get into such a condition that much money, time and trouble will be necessary to restore it to its proper condition.

OPEN AIR TREATMENT

Is Being Tried by Police Commissioner Sutherland For His Daughter.

Police Commissioner R. H. Sutherland is trying a new treatment on his daughter, Miss Claude Sutherland, who is seriously ill of typhoid pneumonia.

Miss Sutherland has been seriously ill for several weeks, and was placed under the treatment of a physician who prescribed an "open air" treatment and so far it has proven a success, Miss Sutherland being greatly improved.

The treatment is simply to live in the open air as much as possible, and last night Mr. Sutherland pitched a tent on the Smalley farm in Arcadia and his daughter spent the night under a tent with her father as guard. This treatment will be continued, and from results from one night, Mr. Sutherland thinks his daughter will recover in a very short time.

Mr. F. W. Katterjohn has purchased the Hobbs property at Sixth and Jefferson streets, the deal being completed and the deed signed up today.

The property is very valuable for residence purposes and is located on the north west corner, fronting 115 feet on Jefferson street and 173 feet on North Sixth street. The consideration was $8,500. The deal was made through the Whittemore Real Estate Agency and it is understood Mr. Katterjohn will put up brick flats, to cost $25,000, the work to begin in a few weeks.

COW ORDINANCE KNOCKED SKY HIGH

law in any case where I thought it had been wantonly and intentionally violated, but I frankly confess I would be greatly embarrassed, if I were compelled to arraign citizens before me, and demand that they proceed to show cause why I should not fine them; that such a law is repugnant to a republican form of government, and unconstitutional, I do not for a moment doubt; upon what theory of right or sound reasoning can it be contended that a person charged with violation of this ordinance, should be called upon before he is proven guilty to show cause why he should not be fined five dollars, and if the court starts out demanding of the defendant that he show cause why he should not be thus fined, by what rule would the court be governed?

When would the proof be sufficient to annul the presumption of guilt if the defendant should be arraigned in the city court, and demanded to show cause why he should not be fined for a breach of the peace, or held over to the circuit court for murder, where would he start his proof? How far would he go, and what proof would be competent to establish his innocence, and rebut the presumption of guilt? These questions may be perfectly plain to gentlemen who do not have the enforcement of the law, but I frankly confess that they present serious objections to me. There is still another important objection to the enforcement of this ordinance. Our constitution, both state and federal, provides that a citizen shall not be deprived of his property without due process of law, but if the citizen is to be arraigned and demanded to show cause why he should not be fined a certain sum of money, and his property taken to liquidate the fine and the costs of the proceeding, if that would not be taking property without due process of law, I frankly confess that I do not see how that could be done. In the case of Gallagher vs. Wooster 4th Reporter 256, the court says: "A city ordinance authorizing the seizure and sale of a hog running at large, without any judicial determination of the forfeiture, is invalid, and an ordinance of the city court, directing such seizure and sale, is no protection to the officer making it. Under the ordinance now before me, as will be observed, there is no provision except by implication to try the question of forfeiture, and the consequent sale of the animal. In the event it should be adjudged, that the animal was wrongly permitted to run at large upon the streets, it will also be observed that there is no right of appeal given by the ordinance, notwithstanding the summary and drastic procedure adopted. While such grave consequences may result to the property owner, I cannot believe it either wise or judicious to take from the defendant the right of appeal; yet there is none provided for in this ordinance. Although a cow worth $50 or $75 might be sold under it."

A further objection might be urged against this ordinance, in that it undertakes to confer upon the City Judge, civil jurisdiction, that is expressly prohibited, in the Charter, as will be seen by reference to Section — of the Kentucky Statutes. There is another objection that may be urged against the validity of this ordinance, with great plausibility. On the 16th day of May, 1903, the Legislature of Kentucky passed an act to regulate the running at large of stock. The act provides that upon the petition of 100 voters of any county or twenty voters of any magisterial or voting district, the question as to whether cattle or stock of any kind shall be permitted to run at large within the territory where the vote is taken, shall be submitted to the people; the majority of the voters declare against such running at large of cattle, it shall thereafter, be unlawful to permit same to run at large; and proper methods of punishment for violation of the act have been provided. The act has since become a part of the Kentucky Statutes. It is known as Chapter 122, inasmuch as this chapter makes no exceptions as to the running at large of stock, it may well be doubted if any city or town can prohibit the running at large of cattle, without first submitting the question to the vote of the people. I frankly confess that so long as the charter referred to remains a part of the laws of the Commonwealth, I cannot see what authority the City Council can assume to legislate on the subject, first ascertaining the will of the voters. I have gone over the matter at some length, and rather carefully, because I realized that considerable feeling on each side of the question, and I have desired to discharge my duty fully, without being controlled by the contention of either side of the controversy; and in view of the fact that no appeal has been provided for, from my decision, I have proceeded with great caution. If the ordinance under consideration is a valid one, there is a way by which its validity can be thoroughly tested; but if it is held to be valid by me in this proceeding, there is no way by which the aggrieved parties can obtain redress by an appeal. I therefore hold the Ordinance to be unconstitutional and void.

It is not known whether the city will appeal the present ordinance or pass a new one. This will be decided later by the members of the legislative boards.

THE COW LAW.

Judge D. L. Sanders, in police court, today decided the cow law invalid. This is unfortunate for those who believe in keeping up the cows, and for those who were indiscreet enough to take down their fences.

There is only one thing left to do now, pass an ordinance that will stick and will be upheld in the courts. It is understood that the boards will lose no time in doing this.

Caleb Powers is fortunate enough to have made many friends among influential people outside as well as inside of Kentucky. His case is now a noted one, and the crowd that has been hounding him for over five years, keeping him a prisoner and convicting him repeatedly, by unfair methods while democrats like Judge Hargis strut about and "do as they damn please," will find it unpleasant to face the consequences of public condemnation if they persist in their persecution. The Globe-Democrat, one of the most influential papers in the United States, has tendered the use of its columns to Powers, and makes an appeal for aid for this unfortunate young Kentuckian. It is to be hoped with good effect. The thought of Caleb Powers in jail for five years for a crime he did not commit and could not have committed, while the Hargises, Callahans and others of their kind go free to stain the soil with more blood of those who dare to oppose them, is enough to make an honest Kentuckian ashamed of his state—and it takes a whole lot to make a Kentuckian ashamed of his state.

A question arose recently in Missouri over the governor's right to call out the militia, and the attorney general has rendered an opinion that "the enforcement of the laws is the essential and distinctive duty of the executive head of the state." Under the act it is the duty of the governor to call out the militia in case of forcible resistance to the laws; but under the constitution he may call out the militia, and the attorney general has rendered an opinion that "the enforcement of the laws is the essential and distinctive duty of the executive head of the state." Under the act it is the duty of the governor to call out the militia in case of forcible resistance to the laws; but under the constitution he may call out the militia to execute the laws whenever he deems that such action is necessary to secure their enforcement, as he is the supreme conservator of the peace throughout the state, and his judgment as to the necessity of such action is necessarily conclusive." This is, in fact, no good, sound law, and doubtless applies in any state, here in Kentucky, a few years ago the claim was made that the governor of the state—the supreme conservator of the peace of the state—could not call out the militia unless requested to by the sheriff of the county. It would be a peculiar state of affairs if the commander-in-chief of the militia in Missouri or anywhere else couldn't call it out when he deemed it necessary.

It is strange what a telegraph company can do when it has to or wants to. The Owensboro Inquirer illustrates: "The benefit of competition is being beautifully illustrated in the delivery of the weather reports. The government, as has been stated in these columns, is sending out the reports at this time by both the Western Union Telegraph and the Cumberland Telephone company. Before the competition was inaugurated the bulletins reached Owensboro anywhere from 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock. Since the competition got under way the bulletins are delivered by telegraph as early as 9 o'clock."

The general council should elect a capable man to fill the position of sewer inspector. For several years the system has not received the attention due it, and a person incapable of filling the office has no more business holding it than a lawyer would have in trying to practice medicine, or a carpenter undertaking to run a locomotive. No matter who he is, gentlemen, elect a competent man.

Rowdism in baseball must be suppressed. There are too many riots, slugging bees and assaults on the umpires to do the national game any good, and those in favor of clean sport must concentrate their efforts to abolish such outbreaks. The worst part of it is that the players themselves usually start all the trouble by their unwillingness to abide by the rules of the game that enables them to live.

The street massacres in Russia are horrible, but considering recent happenings in Chicago, we cannot afford to be too severe in our criticisms. One of the main differences in the riots in Russia and the riots in Chicago is that in Russia it is usually the rioters who get hurt, and in Chicago the innocent bystanders, or people who are trying to attend to their own business and abide by the law.

We have to go away from home for news. Thus saith the St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "The Salvation Army has abandoned the Kentucky mountain districts, after finding that men with nearly a score of patches on their gun handles were able to debate it out of its boots on points of Bible doctrine and discipline."

The anti-spitting ordinance is found to be ineffective in its most important part because of some one's stupidity, and the mayor signed it knowing it to be defective, without reporting it back to the boards for amendment. Progress seems to have a hard row to hoe in Paducah.

If those doughty legislators, Governor Davis and Senator Berry, of Arkansas, will just wait until after the peace conference, perhaps they can have the center of the stage all to themselves.

The Chinese laundrymen have as yet evinced no disposition to participate in the boycott contemplated against the United States.

Speaking of "tainted" money, it is where it goes, not where it comes from, that counts.

To Business and Professional Men of Paducah

Gentlemen—We take this means to advise you that the Commercial and Manufacturers' Association, office No. 118 S. Fourth St., has, with considerable time and expense, prepared a large amount of advertising matter, advertising Paducah. We have been distributing this matter through the mail in a direction where we hope it will do the most good.

Being business men, you will understand the importance of advertising. Every business house, professional man, and many others in Paducah are in a position to assist us in distributing through their business and personal mail, a great deal of advertising matter, that will assist in advertising Paducah, and to some extent, at least, be a direct personal benefit. We ask every one interested in the welfare of Paducah, to send to our office promptly and get such a supply of printed matter as they can distribute in the next sixty or ninety days, throughout the channels mentioned. Those who cannot call for advertising matter, if they will call telephone No. 1514 and advise over the phone, the quantity they will use, it will be promptly delivered.

It is earnestly hoped that every one that reads this notice, will show their interest in the welfare of Paducah, by hearty and promptly co-operating with the Commercial club in a distribution through their mail matter, of a large amount of advertising.

Yours very truly,

D. W. COONS,

Secretary of Commercial Club.

IN THE COURTS

Benton Court Over.

Circuit Judge W. M. Reed returned last night from Benton, where circuit court was adjourned yesterday afternoon until next September. The grand jury made a final report, but none of the cases was of any importance, and only a few indictments were returned. Judge Reed will now have a vacation until fall. He expects to leave today or tomorrow for Dawson.

The Clyde arrived from Tennessee river early this morning and leaves again Wednesday night.

The Dick Fowler had a good trip to Cairo this morning at 8 o'clock.

The John S. Hopkins was the Evansville packet today.

The Lulu Warren, when she left off the docks in a few days, will go to Tennessee river.

The Russell Lord has returned to Mississippi river.

The Inland Navigator says: "No other country is blessed with so magnificent a system of rivers and with connecting canals with the great lakes, the number of miles of territory that can be reached, wholly by inland navigation, is greatly augmented. These rivers all flowing through one channel into the Gulf of Mexico aggregate more than 10,000 miles in length. The Amazon or the Nile, the Ganges and all the rest of the great river systems on earth put together scarcely approach this magnificent showing. A steamboat leaving Pittsburgh can visit 23 stations without passing through an artificial channel. It can go up the Monongahela and Allegheny, the Big Sandy, the Kentucky, the Wabash, the Tennessee and the Cumberland—clear into the Alabama—before reaching the mouth of the Ohio. Below Cairo it can traverse not only the Mississippi, but the St. Francis, the Arkansas, the White, the Red, the Yazoo, the Tallahatchie, the Yazoo, the Ouachita, the great bayous and all the tributaries of those streams, many of which are navigable for greater or less distances."

The Mariner, Tom Rees, Pacific, Crisler, Joe Walton, Harry Brown and Boaz are due at Louisville with loads of coal from Pittsburgh, and the transients, Sam Clark, Resolute and Dave Wood have left Pittsburgh.

A Pittsburgh dispatch Sunday says: Nearly a million and a half bushels of coal was shipped out of the harbor today and a tow will leave tomorrow. The past week has been one of the most profitable in the history of the rivers. About 12,000,000 bushels have been sent out on this rise, which will probably be the last one until the winter sets in. The steamers that left today are Raymond, Harper, 17 barge, 3 barges, 1 motor barge of steel products. Andrew, 17 barge, 19 barge and 12 barges were also sent out to the Alice Brown at Belvidere, and the Tornado will leave with 17 barges tomorrow morning.

City of Idaho and Frank Tardy against the steamer Lotus have been referred to Attorney Campbell Flinnway to take proof of claims. These boats were sold several weeks ago by order of the court and those holding claims against the boats will now have to fight it out before the commissioner, the commissioner to certify the proof to the court at Louisville. The total claims amount to a great deal more than the two boats brought, it is said.

Police Court.

There was a large crowd of spectators in police court this morning and Police Judge Sanders did not finish business until after 11 o'clock. The case against City Jailer Tom Evans and brother, Sam Evans, charged with maliciously assaulting Officer William Headles, was continued until Monday morning. Joe Lewis, colored, who cut Battle Pruitt, colored, was held over under a $150 bond. Alonzo Pollard, colored, who cut Marion Lucas, colored, was held over to the circuit court. Gene Mack, Ernest Hill and Lantz Hill, colored, charged with robbing Charles A. Evans, white, November last, were held over. Duke Stone, Dick Hill, John Given, Kelley Jackson and Ed Townsend, colored, were fined $20 and costs each for gaming. Other cases were: Horrie Harman, colored, petty larceny, dismissed; John Griffin, colored, false swearing, waived examination and held over; Charles Steele, colored, petty larceny, held over; Lock Vise, white, breach of the peace, $1 and costs. The case against Murrell Allen and Lillian Nelson, colored, charged with breach of the peace, resulted in dismissal for the woman and a fine of $10 and costs for the man. He took $3 away from her and they were fighting for the money when arrested.

Charged With Seduction.

Eugene Lytton, a barber late of Brookport, Ill., was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of being a fugitive from justice, and was held pending his return to Brookport, Ill.

Lytton is charged by C. A. Marshall, a brother-in-law of Miss Lilla Phillips, with having accomplished her ruin. Lytton is alleged to have left Brookport sometime ago and come to Paducah. The defendant refused at first to return without a regulation but later agreed to go. This morning he stated, he had some witnesses he desired to be heard and would stand preliminary trial, not believing that the evidence in the case would justify his being sent back to Brookport. Judge Sanders left the case open until this afternoon at 3 o'clock when the evidence will be heard.

Several Breaches of Ordinance.

There were five breach of ordinance cases before Police Judge Sanders this morning, and all were convicted except one, which was dismissed.

The Paducah Gas and Fuel Co. was warranted for permitting a cart to stand in the street. The Paducah city railway was warranted twice, once for tearing up the street at 5th and Broadway without a permit, and for refusing to stop car 103 at 11th and Jefferson for Mrs. James E. Wilhelm, who was on her way to the depot. The Karpis Construction Co. was warranted for starting a building without a permit from the city engineer, and Contractor Harry Baldwin for leaving a cart in the street without the protection of a light.

All cases were continued except the latter, which was dismissed, the defendant showing he had properly lighted the lamp but it went out.

THE DEATH RATE

For Negroes Has Increased Rapidly at Hopkinsville.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 27.—The negro population of Christian county will be materially lessened if the rate of extermination set out for Saturday night and Sunday is kept up for any length of time. At a festival near Pee Dee, Oscar White was shot and instantly killed by Ed Greenwald and Marshall Averitt received a bullet in the leg which made a serious wound. Details are meagre, but it seems Greenwald was scuffling with John Chambers, when White snubbed something to them and Greenwald opened fire.

As the result of a quarrel began Saturday night Will Barker was shot in the foot yesterday by Arthur Miles, a white man. The trouble was renewed and a pistol duel fought on Main street. Miles escaping unhurt. Barker's wound is considered dangerous as the ball lodged in the small bones of his instep and cannot be located.

A negro named Wright, from St. Charles, Ky., went to sleep on the Louisville and Nashville railroad track near Empire last night and was struck by a train and killed his neck being broken.

In getting off a Louisville and Nashville freight train at Pembroke yesterday Charles Johnson, colored, slipped and fell, the wheels passing over his left leg below the knee, severing the member. It is not thought he can live, as the member is so badly mangled.

At another negro festival near Longview Saturday night, Tom Titt and Jim Garrott quarreled over a watch and each emptied his pistol. Both negroes were wounded seriously and several bystanders had narrow escapes.

ACUTE RHEUMATISM.

Deep tearing or wrenching pains, occasioned by getting wet through; worse when at rest, or on first moving the limbs and in cold or damp weather, is cured quickly by Hallard's Snow Liniment. Oscar Olson, Gibson City, Illinois, writes, Feb. 16, 1902: "A year ago I was troubled with a pain in my back. It soon got so bad I could not bend over. One bottle of Hallard's Snow Liniment cured me." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Alvey & List, and G. C. C. Kolb, Paducah, Ky.

Took Out a Peace Warrant.

Coley Sheron, who sued his wife, Mary Sheron, for divorce last week, alleging that they had not lived together as man and wife for ten years, although occupying the same house, has taken out a peace warrant against her in Justice Young's court, alleging that she has threatened to poison him and in other ways do him bodily harm.

The woman gave bond and the case is set for trial next Monday.

The nice increase in our business since the first of the year is very encouraging to us.

The Adventure of the Norwood Builder.

No. 2 of the Series

"This place, Deep Dene House, is a big modern villa of stinging brick standing back in its own grounds, with a laurel clumped lawn in front of it. To the right and some distance back from the road was the timber yard which had been the scene of the fire. Here's a rough plan on a leaf of my notebook. This window on the left is the one which opens into Oldacre's room. You can look into it from the road, you see. That is about the only bit of consolation I have had today. Lestrade was not there, but his head constable did the honors. They had just found a great treasure trove. They had spent the morning raking among the ashes of the burned wood pile, and besides the charred organic remains they had secured several discolored metal disks. I examined them with care, and there was no doubt that they were trower buttons. I even distinguished that one of them was marked with the name of Hyams, who was Oldacre's tailor. I then worked the lawn very carefully for signs and traces, but this drought has made everything as hard as iron. Nothing was to be seen save that some body or bodies had been dragged through a low privet hedge which is in a line with the wood pile. All that, of course, fits in with the official theory. I crawled about the lawn with an August fan on my back, but I got up at the end of an hour no wiser than before.

"Well, after this fiasco I went into the bedroom and examined that also. The blood stains were very slight, more smears and discolorations, but undoubtedly fresh. The stick had been removed, but there also the marks were slight. There is no doubt about the stick belonging to our client. He admits it. Footmarks of both men could be made out on the carpet, but none of any third person, which again is a trick for the other side. They were piling up their score all the time, and we were at a standstill.

"Only one little gleam of hope did I get, and yet it amounted to nothing. I examined the contents of the safe, most of which had been taken out and left on the table. The papers had been made up into sealed envelopes, one or two of which had been opened by the police. They were not, so far as I could judge, of any great value, nor did the bank book show that Mr. Oldacre was in such very affluent circumstances. But it seemed to me that all the papers were not there. There were absences to some degree, possibly the more valuable, which I could not find. This, of course, if we could do it, would prove it, would turn Lestrade's argument against himself, for who would steal a thing if he knew that he would shortly inherit it?

"Finally, having drawn every other cover and picked up no scent, I tried my luck with the housekeeper, Mrs. Lexington is her name—a little, dark, silent person, with suspicious and side-long eyes. She could tell us something if she would. I am convinced of it. But she was as close as wax. Yes, she had let Mr. McFarlane in at half past 9. She wished her hand had withered before she had done so. She had gone to bed at half past 10. Her room was at the other end of the house and she could hear nothing of what passed. Mr. McFarlane had left his bag and, to the best of her belief, his stick in the hall. She had been awakened by the alarm of fire. Her poor, dear master had certainly been murdered. Had he any enemies? Well, every man had enemies, but Mr. Oldacre kept himself very much to himself and only met people in the way of business. She had seen the buttons and was sure that they belonged to the clothes which he had worn last night. The wood pile was very dry, for it had not rained for a month. It burned like tinder, and by the time she reached the spot nothing could be seen but flames. She and all the firemen smelled the burned flesh from inside it. She knew nothing of the papers nor of Mr. Oldacre's private affairs.

"So, my dear Watson, there's my report of a failure. And yet—and yet"—he clinched his thin hands in a paroxysm of conviction—"I know it's all wrong. I feel it in my bones. There is something that has not come out, and that housekeeper knows it. There was a sort of silky defiance in her eyes which only goes with guilty knowledge. However, there's no good talking any more about it, Watson. But unless some lucky chance comes our way I fear that the Norwood disappearance case will not figure in that chronicle of our successes which I foresee that a patient public will sooner or later have to endure."

"Surely," said I, "the man's appearance would go far with my jury."

"That is a dangerous argument," my dear Watson. You remember that terrible murderer, Bert Stevens, who wanted us to get him off in '87? Was there ever a more mild mannered, Sunday school young man?"

"It is true."

"Unless we succeed in establishing an alternative theory this man is lost. You can hardly find a flaw in the case which can now be presented against him, and all further investigation has served to strengthen it. By the way, there is one curious little point about these papers which may serve us as the starting point for an inquiry. On looking over the bank book I found that the low state of the balance was principally due to large checks which have been made out during the last year to Mr. Cornelius. I confess that I should be interested to know who this Mr. Cornelius may be with whom a retired builder has such very large transactions. Is it possible that he has had a hand in the affair? Cornelius might be a broker, but we have found no scrip to correspond with these large payments. Failing any other indication, my researches must now take the direction of an inquiry at the bank for the gentleman who has cashed these checks. But I fear, my dear fellow, that our case will end ingloriously by Lestrade hanging our client, which will certainly be a triumph for Scotland Yard."

I do not know how far Sherlock Holmes took any sleep that night, but when I came down to breakfast I found him pale and harassed, his bright eyes the brighter for the dark shadows round them. The carpet round his chair

HEROIC ACT

15-YEAR-OLD BOY SAVED A CRIPPLE.

C. G. Chandler, an unfortunate, Attempts Suicide, But Is Saved In Time.

Through the heroic action of Guy Hanberry, the fifteen-year-old son of Postmaster Hanberry, of Eddyville, Lyon county, a crippled inmate of the poor farm, named C. G. Chandler, was saved from drowning yesterday afternoon. Chandler, while heavily drunk, jumped into the river after taking off his clothes, and although the boy did not see the body rise, he knew someone must have gone down and jumped in and saved Chandler.

Chandler was an inmate of the poor farm, but had been discharged. Several years ago he lost a foot in a railroad accident, and refusing to work, was placed in the poor farm. He drank a great deal and yesterday procured a bottle of whiskey drank it and informed a woman near the river that he intended killing himself.

She thought nothing of the statement, supposing it due to drink, and did not mention it to any one. Chandler, however, seemed to be in earnest and going to the river bank took off his clothes and jumped in. Immediately after his action the Hanberry boy and a companion passed by and noticed the clothes. Hanberry sent his companion to town for help while the companion was absent jumped in and saved Chandler. He saw the clothes and bubbles and knew that some one was drowning.

Chandler, after being pulled out of the river, was brought to town, assistance having been secured and after a time resuscitated.

This morning he is still in a serious condition, but it is thought will recover.

DEATHS OF A DAY.

Well-Known Resident of County Succumbs—The Wallace Funeral.

Mr. J. M. Finley died last night at 8 o'clock at the home of his son, Mr. G. C. Finley, six miles out the Benton road, from old age. He was born in 1827 in Fleming county, and came to this county in 1869. He was a highly respected man, and one of the best known in this section. He leaves the following children: Messrs. G. C., M. T. and J. S. Finley and Mrs. T. J. Reid, of the county. One brother survives, Dr. D. T. Finley, of New Mexico, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Burns, of Fleming county.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Reidsland Methodist church in the county, Rev. T. J. Owen officiating, burial at Mt. Kenton.

The funeral of the late Dr. W. S. Chiles took place this morning at 10 o'clock at Maxon's Mills. Dr. Chiles was a brother of Rev. H. W. Chiles, of Paducah, who dined with him Sunday and left him in good health. The deceased had been married twice, the last time to Miss Hallie Dale, a cousin of Col. Bud Dale, of Paducah. The burial was at Reeves cemetery.

Goldie, the 18-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Grete, died yesterday afternoon of whooping cough at the family residence on the Mayfield road near the city. The father is an employee in the I. C. car department. The burial took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, burial at Oak Grove.

City Prosecuting Attorney T. B. Harrison has not yet returned from Vanceburg, Ky., where he went several days ago in response to a telegram announcing the critical illness of his mother. His friends will regret to learn that news has since reached the city that his mother died, but no particulars have been received.

The infant child of William Taylor, of 602 Ohio street, died this morning and will be buried this afternoon in the county. The child was suffering from summer complaint.

The funeral of Mr. John Wallace, the veteran marine engineer, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. George Phillips, corner Ninth and Monroe streets. Rev. Pinkerton, of the First Christian church, will conduct the services, interment at Oak Grove.

A LIVELY CONTEST OVER $500 BOND

Arguments to be Heard in Police Court Saturday Next.

May Be a Three-Cornered Affair For Possession of the Five Hundred Dollars.

BORDEAUX IS NOT LOCATED YET

There is going to be a contest over the $500 held by Chief of Police Jns. Collins in the Bordeaux case. The money is not held as a bond forfeited to the city, as the warrant has been dismissed. The fight will probably be between Mr. W. C. O'Bryan, who was Bordeaux' bondsman, the receivers of the Home Purchasing company, and the city. The latter claim that the money belongs to assets of the Home Purchasing company, and are trying to get possession of the money to be turned in with other assets.

A report is that Former Manager Bordeaux, who disappeared Saturday, is in Nashville and another is that he is in the east.

It is said that Attorney Cecil Reed, one of the receivers, has received a letter from Bordeaux, saying that he, Bordeaux, was going east to accept a lucrative position, and to take a much needed rest, and would return if he was needed.

His mail is to be sent through his wife. It is understood, indicating that no one knows where he is.

Arguments will be made Saturday in police court as to the proper disposition of the $500.

Some claim that the $500 is legally forfeited and belongs to the city, and this will also be argued. It seems the case against Bordeaux, however, was dismissed. In order that a forfeiture could be prevented, and while it may not be attempted, it is now claimed that the city can go back and ask that the bond be forfeited when the case has been dismissed.

If the receivers do not prove that the money belongs to the Home Purchasing company, they cannot take it, and it will then go back to Mr. O'Bryan, in all probability, as the city cannot hold it as a bond when the charge against Bordeaux for which the bond was given has been dismissed.

INQUEST HELD

JURY HEARD EVIDENCE IN WALTER BROWN MURDER CASE.

Ed. Marable to Be Warranted For Murder and Arraigned Tomorrow.

Coroner James Crow this morning held an inquest over the remains of Walter Brown, the negro who had his skull crushed in by Ed. Marable near 8th and Campbell streets Saturday night. Half a dozen or more witnesses were heard, but none who saw the assault testified.

Mrs. Christian, who lives near where Brown was found, said that she heard several blows, and when she looked out Brown was down, and she could see the other man, but did not know who he was.

She saw a big spoke near by the next morning, but somebody carried it away, and she does not know whether it was the bludgeon used with such deadly effect or not. Coroner Crow does not believe a fence pulling could have cracked a man's skull as Brown's was cracked. Other witnesses testified to hearing something about "Give me some more" from Marable when he was talking to Brown just before the assault was committed, and there were also witnesses who heard the two negroes quarrelling in a saloon over who was to treat, but no one testified to seeing the blows struck.

It was proven that Marable came pentling into a man's home in Rowlandtown that night and when asked what was the matter he said that if they had done what he had done they would be running too. He then told them that he had knocked Brown in the head, but did not say why he did it.

The verdict of the jury was: "We, the jury, duly sworn, find that the body here before us and viewed by us as Walter Brown, and he came to his death by blows on his head by a club of some pulling or some hard substance in the hands of Ed. Marable. (Signed.)

UNREQUITED LOVE

Caused the Suicide of a Young Man at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., June 27.—Believing himself to be a victim of unrequited love, Harry R. Grandison, a stone cutter nineteen years old, swallowed carbolic acid within sight of his sweetheart and after walking a few yards sank upon the lawn of a school house in North Memphis, where he and the object of his affections had been classmates for years, and expired before aid could reach him. To the girl's mother, a week ago, young Grandison had declared that he intended to take his life. He appeared at the house of a neighbor where the young woman was visiting, and asked for a bucket of water. Just after he left the house he drew a vial of poison from his pocket and drank the contents. Two letters were found in his pocket one addressed to his mother, who is en route to Cleveland, O., to attend the funeral of her mother, the other to his two sisters, in which he said: "Try and take my life for an example, and never make another think you love him better than life."

A BLIND MAN.

Reports Theft of His Hard Earned Savings While He Was Absent.

Tom Hainbridge, the blind colored man who is led about the streets by a faithful black dog, today reports the loss of about $20 which he and his wife had been saving for some weeks past.

His wife is employed at Mr. Chris Stienhauser's and a few days ago they went to Christian county on a brief visit. When they returned home a trunk in which they had their savings in a box had been broken open and the box and money taken. Hainbridge claims he consulted a colored "fortune teller" and she told him the box was in the yard. Search was made for it, but it could not be found. A second trip was made to the "fortune teller" and she said the box was under the house. Hainbridge sent a boy under the house, and the box was found, but the money was gone. The loss falls heavily on the blind man, and there is no clue to the thief's identity.
